Linda and Pat Parelli Star at Royal Festival of the Horse

Linda and Pat Parelli are set to star at the new equestrian event of the year – the Royal Festival of the Horse.

The Festival takes place at Stoneleigh Park, July 9 to 11 and will host a great summer equine extravaganza where each day Parelli, dressage, show jumping, Express Eventing – the stadium format of 3-day eventing – will be showcased in the main arena. Outside the main arena, trade stands, Royal Show showing classes with Horse of the Year Show qualifiers, Heavy Horse Village and much more will make this an event horse lovers will not want to miss.

Parelli events and demonstrations will take place throughout the three days providing an ideal opportunity for natural horsemanship followers to learn more about the Parelli method and meet with like-minded horse lovers.

Said Pat Parelli; “Stoneleigh Park is the home of our UK office & horse training courses. We are delighted to be able to support the organisers in their aim to make this an annual event and celebration of the horse for the equestrian world.”

During the day on Friday and Saturday within the Parelli Pavilion there will be displays by the Savvy Team consisting of the top European Parelli Instructors, as well as a 20 minute demonstration in the main arena at Stoneleigh Park.

Friday and Saturday evening is Pat Parelli time, with Pat in the Parelli Pavilion providing inspiration like only he can and challenging the audience to make the world a better place for horses and humans.

The evening performances are the ideal opportunity for those horse lovers new to Parelli Natural Horsemanship to find out more.

Sunday is devoted to Savvy Club Sunday – and is only open to Savvy Club members.

A special day has been designed specifically to take your horsemanship to a new level with more insight, more strategies and more depth of understanding.

Added Linda Parelli: “We wanted to make Sunday a really special day for Savvy Club members and are very excited about meeting members throughout the day.”

Seating in the Parelli Pavilion is limited - so act now and reserve your seat today.
